DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Representative—91st District,
JUDGE H. F. PIERATT.

SATURDAY, May 9th, remember, is the day of the primary to nominate a Democratic State ticket, and every Democrat should be at the polls to express his preference. At the head of the list is Gov. Beckham, who has no opposition. Then comes Lieutenant-Governor, and we believe every Democrat should vote for Hon. Abram Runk, of Clark county, for that place. For Commissioner of Agriculture our advice is to vote for Col. T. T. Hedger, because being a farmer himself, he is more likely to give satisfaction to the farmer class, and besides he is a good man in every sense of the word. For Attorney-General, Hon. N. B. Hays, of Pineville, is our choice, and we believe the choice of the people generally, and as previously stated in these columns, he represents 17,000 Democrats in his district who are and have always been without representation in the matter of "the loaves and fishes." Certainly he should receive the suffrage of every good Democrat. As to the other candidates, circumstances are such that we cannot well express a preference. But the men we have recommended are all good men and true, and the readers of THE HERALD will make no mistake in following our advice in the matter.

No Democrat should fail to go to the polls on Saturday and cast his vote for his choice for the several offices.

THERE is every indication that several thousand dollars will be added to the fund being raised by the Kentucky Exhibit Association from the appeal made a fortnight ago to members of the organization to begin a canvass for contributions. The membership of the body now numbers 1,200, and it is safe to say that over half of them are out on a tour of solicitation. The fact that cash subscriptions may be applied in votes in the School Teachers' Popularity Contest to any educator the contributor desires sent on one of the 125 free trips to the World's Fair next year has had a good effect on the canvass in many sections of the State.

Primary election, Saturday, May 9th. Vote for Capt. T. T. Hedger.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also a convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Though Kentucky was not represented officially by its State government at the dedication of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis last week, there was a good sprinkling of residents of the Blue Grass State at the ceremonies, the Kentucky Exhibit Association having sent over a good delegation of officers, members and committeemen. Every visitor from this commonwealth found what has been said in these columns for the past few months to be absolutely true, that is, that the exposition will be the greatest in the history of nations. The tour of the grounds after the military parade gave the visitors from Kentucky an idea of the magnitude of the undertaking, at whose head is a former Kentuckian—Gov. David Rowland Francis, born in Madison county. They walked through buildings that will hold thousands of square feet of space of exhibits; they saw the rough outline of the main picture of the exposition, which will undoubtedly overshadow the Court of Honor at the Chicago World's Fair and all other expositions a hundred times, and they felt the enthusiasm that marks every visit to such a place. It is safe to assume had 100,000 Kentuckians, instead of 1,000, attended the dedication exercises, they would have returned home ready and anxious to contribute something to the fund being raised by the Kentucky Exhibit Association for a proper representation of the State there next year.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. Van Metre, of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It is infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It is guaranteed by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

Marcum Murdered at Jackson.

The report reached here Monday afternoon that James B. Marcum, a prominent attorney and Republican politician, of Breathitt county, was on Monday forenoon assassinated while talking to a gentleman at the court-house in Jackson. It was impossible to get particulars, but the message stated that Mr. Marcum was standing in the court-house door with his hand resting upon the door frame, talking to Capt. Ewing, who was just outside the door, when some one from the rear of the building fired upon him twice. He dropped out of the door upon his face, and was carried into a nearby house, where he expired within ten minutes. Whether the party who did the shooting was seen and recognized by Capt. Ewing, or others, has yet to develop. Mr. Marcum said some months since that sooner or later he would be killed for his attitude as attorney in the prosecution of some of the cases in the court there, and announced that he would leave the State to avoid assassination. He failed to do so, and his death is the result. It is a terrible state of affairs, and there seems to be no remedy.

All Were Baffled.

Word comes from Wake, Ark., that Rev. John J. Cox had a strange malady accompanied by yellow jaundice. For 12 years physicians were baffled, and though everything known to the profession was used, the trouble remained. One day he began to use Electric Bitters and in a week a change for the better came, and at length he was entirely cured. It's the most reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. and guaranteed by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, druggists.

Howard Trial Ended, and Defendant Given Life Imprisonment.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 30.—The jury in the Howard case, charged with the assassination of Gov. Goebel, returned a verdict of guilty at 10:55 a. m. today and fixed the punishment at imprisonment for life. The case will be appealed. "Have you found a verdict, gentlemen?" asked Judge Cantrell, as the jury filed in.

The written verdict was handed to Judge Cantrell and read as follows:

"We, the jury, find the defendant guilty, and fix his punishment at life imprisonment."

It has been ascertained that on the first ballot the jury stood nine for the death sentence, and three for a life sentence. On the second vote eleven were for hanging and one for a life sentence. On the third ballot, taken after the agreement had been reported, nine were for hanging and three for life sentence. After discussion all came over to those who favored hanging, save Joseph Burkes. Finally the compromise was made.

The jury was composed of the following Woodford county men: A. R. Masner, F. D. Redding, R. I. Renshaw, G. M. Jewell, Henry Mehrling, William Chapman, J. A. Binks, J. M. Prather, George Cox, Carter C. Neal, T. H. Mattingly, W. B. Ford.

The X-Rays.

Recent experiments, by practical tests and examination with the aid of the X-ray, established it as a fact that Catarrh of the Stomach is not a disease of itself, but that it results from repeated attacks of indigestion. "How Can I Cure My Indigestion?" Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is curing thousands. It will cure you of indigestion and dyspepsia, and prevent or cure Catarrh of the stomach. Kodol digests what you eat—makes the stomach sweet.

Sent Up for Thirteen Years.

Martha Banks, who shot and killed Cal Davis, an account of which appeared in THE HERALD at the time, was this week tried in the Wolfe Circuit Court and convicted, the jury fixing her punishment at 13 years in the penitentiary. The jury took the case on Monday evening, and reported Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock with their verdict.

Revs. Wells and Chambers preached at the old Baptist Church Sunday. A good crowd were in attendance.

Misses Sallie Tutt and Maud Williams, of K. W. A., spent Saturday and Sunday at Mrs. Elizabeth Tutt's on Stillwater.

On last Saturday Mr. Sewell C. Rose, not wishing to neglect his target practice, thought he would try his skill at a house cat. So he took the cat out, set him up to a bush, and then stepped back to pluck him off. He fired one 38-ball into the cat's head, tearing it nearly off. The cat then took after Mr. Rose and ran him a few paces. He then fired four more balls into the cat but failed to kill it. He then tried a fence rail, but did no good at that. He finally finished up the job with rocks. We cannot vouch for the truth of this story, but it came from an honorable source. But the cat never came back.

COMMUNING WITH NATURE.

Laura Was Not Satisfied by the Beautiful Scenery—It Was a Hug.

Class inside the sparkling brook, whose waters danced merrily in the sunlight and rippled joyously over the golden sands, they sat in silence—George and Laura—drinking in the glorious beauty of the rustic scene and communing with nature in one of her chosen shrines. After all in the west, the sun seemed to linger on the rim of the horizon as if unwilling to shut out from his gaze the lovely landscape that glowed with softened and even melancholy radiance in the departing beams of Laura's home.

A thrilling cry burst from the lips of the beautiful girl, "George! George!" she almost shrieked.

"What is it, darling?" he asked, placing his arm tenderly around her waist.

"The romantic, yet oppressive, loveliness of the scenery saddened your spirit."

"No, George," she answered, "it was the small of my back. I think it's some kind of a bug."

One Answer for All.

Lancaster, N. Y., Mar. 30th.—Postmaster Remers is still in receipt of many letters from his patients, who are all well and happy.

It will be remembered that some time ago the particulars of Mr. Remers' case were published in these columns. He had been very low with Diabetes. Physicians could do nothing to save him and he grew worse and worse till some one recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills. A treatment of this remedy was begun and when eight boxes had been taken Mr. Remers began to see an improvement, which continued as the treatment proceeded till he was completely restored.

He has since enjoyed perfect health and is as robust and able a man as any in Lancaster. Interviewed the other day he said:

"Many people wrote to me when the story of my case was first printed and some wrote me yet asking if the cure was only temporary and if the diabetes had returned. I can only answer to everybody. Three years ago I was very low with Diabetes. The best physicians failed to help me and Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me. I am well and strong and have not had the slightest return of the old trouble."

Mrs. Laura L. Barnes, Washington, D.C., Ladies Auxiliary to Burnside Post, No. 4, G. A. R., recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"In diseases that come to women only, as a rule, the doctor is called in, sometimes several doctors, but still matters grow from bad to worse; but I have never known of a case of female weakness which was not helped when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used faithfully. For young women who are subject to headaches, backache, irregular or painful periods, and nervous attacks due to the severe strain on the system by some organic trouble, and for women of advanced years in the most trying time of life, it serves to correct every trouble and restore a healthy action of all organs of the body."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a household reliance in my home, and I would not be without it. In all my experience with this medicine, which covers years, I have found nothing to equal it. Mrs. L. A. Barnes, 607 Second St., N. E., Washington, D. C.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

GOOD PIT FOR MANURE.

Every Farm Should Have One That Is Built Substantially of Brick and Cement.

The farmer's best savings bank is his manure pit. Most farmers talk of lime, potash, nitrogen, phosphates, and are buying all kinds of fertilizer; in the meanwhile they leave their best friend, the manure pile, out in the hot sun, and often scatter it all over the barnyard, to be washed out by all the heavy rains and the water that comes from all the barn roofs.

Would it not be more economical to start right at home, build a good place for your manure, so you can take care of the manure, and especially the urine from your live stock, which with most farmers soaks through the stable floor into the ground? Every farmer should have a good pit for the manure, built of bricks or stones and cement, about like the illustration, in which the drain is shown emptying from the stable into a, the pit for the urine, and if possible for the refuse water from the house; b should be about six by eight feet deep. C and d are the pits for manure or compost; these should be two to three feet deep and have one foot fall toward b, so that you sprinkle either side it will drain into b. E is the place for the pump; put in pipe or rail four boards together with a strainer on the bottom, so you just need to stick the pump into it. Have b covered with good planks. Build a roof over the whole to protect it from sun and rain.

Always keep the manure level and well sprinkled to prevent it from heating. All kinds of grass, turnip tops, potato stalks and weeds piled up and well sprinkled will make good manure.

I believe manure treated that way will show more benefit and will pay for the labor better than if spread out in the field and the wind and the rain allowed to take all the ammonia out of it, and the heavy rains in spring to wash the best out of it into the road, ditch or stream. The liquid manure on the pit is very valuable and brings good results on grass and cereals. Plow or harrow your manure into the ground as quickly as possible after it is out of the field. After treating and saving the manure that way, study your ground, and buy whatever your ground needs to perfect the yielding capacity.—George Friesenius, in Country Gentleman.

A THING WE FORGET.

Much of the Labor Which We Consider Wasted Is, in Reality, a Profitable Investment.

Often when we work to raise a good crop of corn or other feed-stuff, or when we pay out a round sum for grains that some one else has produced, we say: "Well, that is the last of it. We will never see that money again. The time and labor spent in getting that crop are gone forever, and what have we left to show for them? A few dollars come back in the form of milk or butter, but that is all."

But is it all? When we feed this corn or meal we forget that but a small part of the good is represented in the milk or the butter or the cheese. Simply because we cannot measure in dollars and cents the value of the part which goes back upon our farms in the form of first-class fertilizer, we think our time, labor and money have been largely wasted. If we could understand how much depends on the way we keep our farms up, we might place a higher value on the crops we grow or the grain we buy for use in the dairy. The fact is, a good share of our farm labor is done not for today, but for the day that is coming. You and I may live to see the result of all we do, but we do not know, but some one will if we are faithful in our work. It pays us, however, if we live only a few years, to feed our stock well, and so feed our farms well, too.—E. L. Vincent, in Farm and Fireside.

Wolf Teeth in Horses.

Many people imagine that wolf teeth, as they are called, by some mysterious means, reach up to the eye and affect it in some manner, and many other ridiculous fancies. They are merely superfluous teeth. The idea that they are injurious has become so firmly engrained in the public mind that it is almost impossible to eradicate it. In the great majority of cases horses affected suffer from recurrent ophthalmia, the teeth having nothing to do with the causation of same. I never argue with people about wolf teeth, but pull them as I am requested. You will feel better satisfied if the wolf teeth are pulled, so it would be better to have a veterinary remove them.—C. E. Hatch, V. S., in Rural New Yorker.

The Destruction of Weeds.

With the approach of spring the perennial problem of destroying weeds on walks, drives, tennis courts and similar places presents itself. About the best method that has been devised is to kill them either an arsenic sulphuric acid, carbolic acid or soda-bath. Any one of these is effective, though the arsenic mixtures, some of which are offered as commercial proprietary solutions, are the most persistent in their effects. For killing weeds in lawns, where it is desired to grow useful plants as promptly as possible after the treatment, crude carbolic acid is said to be most desirable, as it does not permanently poison the soil.

TAUGHT BY EXPERIENCE.

As Long as Farmers Can't Control the Market It Pays to Cater to Popular Taste.

The merchant lays in such stock as he knows his customers will buy. The grocer makes his stock as attractive as possible, and he knows what class of customers he may expect when he locates in any particular locality. In fact, I do not know of any other class of people who offer goods on the market without knowing what the market is, except the farmer, or more strictly speaking, the farmer's wife. I have just been having a little experience, and you know it is experience that teaches.

A friend up in New England spent all her spare time last summer raising geese, and a big, fine flock she had when it came time to market them. We were all there when killing day came. The geese were killed in the old way, by cutting off the heads. They were then brought in, dipped into a boiler of hot water, then rolled in a piece of carpeting to steam, and by the time they were cool we picked. This process makes picking very easy, and does not injure the skin. These people pick feathers and down all into one basket, and offer it at the price of feathers.

I had bought down pillows in the cities, and of course recognized the value of the down; so we instituted a second picking. The feathers can be taken off first and put in a basket by themselves, then the down picked separately. It is really the easier way to do the picking. The down, thus saved sells at a much higher price than the selling price of feathers. These geese were all dipped in a thin solution of starch water, which gives the skin a very nice appearance, and were then shipped to one of our large cities. But here is the point. In that particular market customers prefer foals with the heads on. And here was a lot of, over 100 pounds, all dressed alike, all dressed as the market does not want them dressed, and shipped at—well at "any old time," just when it happened to be convenient to kill them.

These people, after putting a whole summer's work into goose raising, did not take a paper in which they could read market quotations; did not look for a market quotation to know where to ship their geese, and did not stop to inquire how best to prepare their shipment for the market. What would become of a commission merchant if he were to do business regardless of the market? He would have to give up business in short order. And I hate to see the farmer or his wife lose the full benefit of a year's work in this way. Farmers do not watch the "market reports" page of their paper closely enough.—Maude Meredith, in Country Gentleman.

STRONG PLANK DRAG.

means of rods and ring of a chain and ring. The drag is for the purpose of lifting the drag to free it from rubbish or stones. This drag carries five men along between the scantlings, which fills up all low places and levels the ground. A drag of this description, eight feet long, is a good load for a team of horses, without a harness attached behind. If more weight is wanted the man can ride the drag. It does excellent work in leveling and putting the ground in order.—Ohio Farmer.

TIMELY CORN NOTES.

Have the Soil Well Disked Before Planting and Fertilized with Stable Manure.

But even corn succeeds better if the soil is well disked, before planting, and will respond profitably to an ample supply of stable manure. Corn breeding has had great attention of late, and there is a wide difference in the value of seed corn, even of old and well-known varieties.

Corn succeeds better on newly turned soil than any other crop, because it is at first a surface feeder, and can wait for the under soil to become compact and the soil rotting. Plant as soon as ground is warm (May 10 to 20) in rows three to four feet apart—18 inches apart a row, leaving one stalk to the hill. This is a good rule for either grain or silage.

It pays to buy the best of seed. One bushel of seed will plant eight acres. That which will produce five additional bushels per acre is therefore worth about $30 per bushel more for seed than the inferior article.—Rural World.

Fat Nation for Export.

An exchange reports Mr. J. E. Wing of Ohio, as of the opinion that fat nation will be in demand for export. "Sheep and lamb feeding is a good game to stick to, provided the feeder raises his own feed. We raise lots of alfalfa and feed in conjunction with ear corn. Never sell the corn. At least that is our experience, and it has been a profitable one. The thin lambs are the ones to buy. The feeder gets the growth with them and will make money by not finishing them too much. Send them to market on the light side, if anything is my policy. When buying feeding lambs, be sure to pick those with open, loose fleeces. They do better in the feed lot than close-fleeced stock."

One advantage of starting with eggs rather than fowls in securing a good breed is that the risk of loss is lessened.

PORTO RICO'S COFFEE.

Varied and Interesting History of the Bean, Its Aid to the Island's Prosperity, Etc.

Porto Rico coffee has had a varied and interesting history. The bean was introduced in 1793 from Guadalupe. In 1770 the production was 728,025 pounds and in 1776 rose to 1,226,225 pounds. During the Napoleonic wars the financial situation in Porto Rico felt the baneful influence and exportation of agricultural products ceased. The culture of coffee, however, took on a new impetus after the French refugees came from Hayti. Fleeing from revolution there they carried to Porto Rico new methods for cultivation of the coffee crop.

From 1850 to 1897, inclusive, Porto Rico produced 492,688 tons of coffee, valued at $95,269,479, an average of more than 25,000,000 pounds a year, worth nearly $1,500,000 annually. In 1898, 1899 and 1900 the crops were respectively 27,920 tons, 5,729 tons, 119 tons and 11,500 tons. This was an average of 14,540 tons per annum, valued at $2,918,000.

So many inquiries are now being made concerning Porto Rican coffee and its prospects that some of the facts included in Gov. Hunt's recent report to President Roosevelt are especially timely, states the Washington Star. The governor shows that the area of coffee lands planted just prior to the American occupation was about 180,000 acres, with an annual average yield of 26,280 tons of marketable coffee.

The present area, including all groves that have been renovated to any degree of bearing condition since the hurricane of 1899, is estimated at 122,128 acres, of which the annual average yield should amount to 17,975 tons.

The work of clearing the plantations and repairing the injuries inflicted by the tempest progressed slowly at first because of the financial stress of the land owners, reducing the coffee crop for the year 1900 to 9,200 tons; but the planters have been greatly encouraged by the heavy yield on restored plantations during the last year, and it is thought that the crop last harvested amounted to two-thirds of the normal yield.

Many groves which have been practically abandoned since the cyclone are now being renovated and completely restored, and even some entirely new groves are being planted, notwithstanding the present low price of the berry. The trees are full of well-formed healthy fruit, and promise an abundant yield this season.

A good grade of coffee land, well cultivated, produces at least four quintals of coffee annually an acre, and generally more. Considering the minimum production of four quintals an acre, at $10 each, that being a very low price for Porto Rican coffee, we have a total of $40 an acre.

A quintal of coffee can be laid down at the season for exportation at a local cost of production, plus inferior transportation, of $7. This sum may be multiplied by the four quintals which an acre produces, and makes a total expense of $28 an acre, which being deducted from the $40 gross yield, leaves a minimum net gain of $12 an acre. Four quintals an acre is a low estimate, it is being possible to produce from $50 to $100 gross revenue from each acre planted in coffee when in full bearing, giving a net profit of from $18 to $68 an acre.

It is the general opinion that a person going into the business of cultivating coffee, in order to make it lucrative, should own from 500 to 1,000 acres of suitable land. This properly administered, will yield a good revenue and secure a permanent income.

The tree bears in five years after planting and is full bearing at seven, and as a yearly producer can be relied on to last a lifetime. Very little machinery, and that of a most simple description, is required in preparing the berries for shipment and sale.

Few properties in the island are so well suited for the cultivation of coffee. The soil is combined with others, such as volcanic, alluvial, and coral. Shade is indispensable to the raising of coffee in Porto Rico, and other fruit-bearing trees can furnish the necessary protection.

The opening of the markets of the United States and the construction of roads in the interior of the island have given a great impetus to this as well as other agricultural industries. The coffee has not had the special attention in the American market. Travelers who know its flavor commend its superiority, and in time it will command the best price.

From July 1, 1901, to July 1, 1902, Porto Rico exported to foreign countries coffee valued at $1,816,000, and during the same period sent but $29,188 worth to the United States. The increase in the foreign exportation of coffee in one year, was $1,786,812, and this shows the healthy increase in coffee growing in Porto Rico.

School with Baths and Meals.

Stockholm claims the largest school-house in the world, which has accommodation for 2,570 children. In the basement are 100 bathrooms, where the children are required to bathe if their teachers think they are not taught habits of cleanliness. Soap and towels are furnished free by the city. A wholesome dinner is furnished to poor children at noon in all the public schools if they need it, as in Norway, which insures every child at least one warm meal a day.—London Times.

One of the essentials of the happy homes of to-day is a fund of information as to right living and the best methods of promoting health and happiness. With proper knowledge, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and are of not less value than the using of the most wholesome foods and the selecting of the best medicinal agents when needed. With the well-informed, medicinal agents are used only when nature needs assistance and while the importance of cleansing the system effectually, when bilious or constipated, has long been known, yet until within recent years it was necessary to resort to oils, salts, extracts of roots, barks and other cathartics which were found to be objectionable and to call for constantly increased quantities.

Then physicians having learned that the most excellent laxative and carminative principles were to be found in certain plants, principally in the leaves, the California Fig Syrup Co. discovered a method of obtaining such principles in their purest condition and of presenting them with pleasant and refreshing liquids in the form most acceptable to the system and the remedy became known as—Syrup of Figs—as figs were used, with the plants, in making it, because of their agreeable taste.

This excellent remedy is now rapidly coming into universal use as the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually without disturbing the natural functions and without unpleasant after effects and its use may be discontinued when it is no longer required.

All who would enjoy good health and its blessings should remember that it is the only remedy which physicians and parents well-informed approve and recommend and use and which they and their little ones alike enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all reliable druggists, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, in original packages only, having the name of the remedy—Syrup of Figs—and the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package.

The Best Way to Teach History.

The task of object teaching, the foundation of the Froebel system of instruction, has in recent years met with general acceptance and adoption in almost every branch of education, high and low, with resultant benefits which are beyond question. Even such subjects as grammar and arithmetic are now taught in this way as far as practicable, and with marked advantage over the old dry and abstract method. The practice of teaching history by making pilgrimages to the very scenes where great historical events are occurred in an application of the same principle and much more valuable in the way of impressing the reality of history upon the minds of the young than any amount of mere text-book instruction could be. A recent issue of the "Four Track Series," published by the New York Central management, gives a description of the historical sites in the immediate vicinity of New York, which will be of exceeding value for the guidance of teachers and others who desire to adopt this method of instruction. One of the best ways to develop civic pride and promote good citizenship lies in this very direction, an increase of knowledge of local history being accompanied with an increase of interest in matters of local government and a higher concern for what affects the welfare and good of the community.—From Leslie's Weekly.

"Did you give that woman two good eggs for her two cents?" asked the corner grocer of the new boy, I did, said "You're a liar." "You should have sold her two hundred eggs, so that she could come back to kick and give me a chance to sell her a porter-house steak."—Baltimore News.

"I should like to know why," said the intellectual, Grubler, "money is called 'grub'." Because, answered the philosopher, "it is the only thing that is called 'grub' by the poor and the rich alike."—Baltimore American.

"KIDNEY COLDS."

Nothing will "lay you up," "put you out," "play you out," "put you to bed" quicker than a kidney cold. Those sneezes feel the first effect of colds in the kidneys. Backache, rheumatic pains, urinary disorders, retention of the urine, infrequent and too frequent urinary discharges tell of kidneys out of order.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills from common backache to dangerous diabetes.

A. T. Rittenour, owner of the wood yard at 125 East Court Street, Winchester, Va., says: "Ever since I had a gripe I have been a sufferer from kidney troubles, which made themselves apparent in racking pains through the region of the kidneys and across the small of my back. The pains were always severe, and sometimes so sharp and biting that they compelled me to take to my bed. The kidney secretions furnished further evidence of disorders. They were off color, irregular and painful of passage. Added to this there was an annoying weakness. The newspaper advertisements of Doan's Kidney Pills attracted my attention, and I procured a box of that remedy at Frank Baker & Sons' drug store. The relief I experienced was magical. The pills lifted me from my bed of sickness, placed me on my feet, and made me a well man. I can work as well as ever. Doan's Kidney Pills, I believe, saved my life. They are a great remedy to stop kidney troubles resulting from colds."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Rittenour will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price 50 cents per box.

Complete External and Internal Treatment

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning, and scaly humors of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and the best physicians fail. As evidence of the wonderful curative properties of Cuticura Remedies and of their world-wide sale, we quote from

The Hon. Mr. Justice Finemore's Letter.

"I desire to give my voluntary testimony to the beneficial effects of your Cuticura Remedies. I have suffered for some time from an excess of uric acid in the blood; and since the middle of last year, from a severe attack of Eczema, chiefly on the scalp, face, ears and neck, and on one limb. I was for several months under professional treatment, but the remedies prescribed were of no avail, and I was gradually becoming worse, my face was dreadfully disfigured, and I lost nearly all my hair. At last, my wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I gave them a thorough trial with the most satisfactory results. The disease soon began to disappear, and my hair commenced to grow again. A fresh growth of hair is covering my head, and my limb (although not yet quite cured) is gradually improving. My wife thinks so highly of your remedies that she has been purchasing them in order to make presents to other persons suffering from similar complaints, and, as President of the Bible Women's Society, has told the Bible women to report if any case should come under her notice when a poor person is so afflicted, so that your remedies may be resorted to."

Eczema

How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales! Some people call it tetter, milk crust or nail rheum. The suffering from it is sometimes intense; local applications are resorted to—they mitigate, but cannot cure. It proceeds from humors inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

The Wastes of the Body.

Every seven days the blood, muscles, and bones of a man of average size loses two pounds of worn-out tissue. The waste cannot be replenished and the health and strength kept up without perfect digestion. When the stomach and digestive organs fail to perform their functions, the strength lets down, health gives way, and disease sets up. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of blood that rebuilds the tissues and protects the health and strength of the mind and body. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all stomach troubles. It is an ideal spring tonic.

8 Cents

Eight cents a pound is what a young woman paid for twelve pounds of flesh.

She was thin and weak and paid one dollar for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion, and by taking regular doses had gained twelve pounds in weight before the bottle was finished.

Eight cents a pound is cheap for such valuable material. Some pay more, some less, some get nothing for their money. You get your money's worth when you buy Scott's Emulsion.

is all coffee—no glazing of eggs or glue to conceal defects and cheapen its quality. Fresh and uniform, rich in flavor, because always in sealed packages—never in bulk.

On the first page of this paper will be found the advertisement of the Citizens' National Bank, of Winchester, and Cashier Hampton asks the citizens of Hazel Green and vicinity to give them their deposits. It is one among the solid financial institutions of the State and as an earnest of the good treatment you are sure to receive at this bank we have only to say that our old friend, P. B. Winn, is connected with the bank, and Phip will sure treat you right.

Makes a Clean Sweep.

There's nothing like doing a thing thoroughly. Of all the Salves you ever heard of, Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best. It sweeps away and cures Burns, Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Boils, Ulcers, Skin Eruptions and Piles. It's only 25c, and guaranteed to give satisfaction by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists.

A lodge of the order of Macca-cans was organized at this place Saturday night with twelve charter members, as follows: Commander, Dr. J. H. Stamper; Lieutenant, W. W. Quicksall; Lieutenant-Commander, W. C. Campbell; Record Keeper, C. M. Rose; Finance Keeper, R. J. McLin; Sergeant, J. M. Nickell; Master-at-Arms, W. C. Coldiron; First Master of Guards, E. A. Johnson; Physician, Dr. A. C. Nickell. Three more officers are to be elected, which will be done at the meeting Saturday night, when permanent organization will be effected and more members initiated.

An All-The-Year-Round Cottage.

A house that expresses those qualities of comfort characteristic of the "Cottage" at the same time possesses such a substantial arrangement as to make it habitable all the year round is described and illustrated in the June Delinior. Such a dwelling, while having the advantages of a summer cottage is far more of a home, and the one shown is essentially "livable" and homelike. It is a house of moderate cost, attractive in appearance and artistic in furnishing. Home makers can find a wealth of suggestion in the article.

Ladies, you are not in it if you do not go to Mrs. F. N. Day's for your hats, spring and summer dress goods, ready made skirts, laces, embroideries, appliques, and in fact everything new for the ladies' perfect outfit. She has never had such a rush of trade and it is due her for her time, trouble and pains. She has sold 100 nice hats in the last fifteen or twenty days, and has a vast amount on hand yet, some of the most beautiful patterns ever brought to the mountains. Call and see her and save money and get what you want.

LANDSAW DOTS.

Bascom McGuire has moved from St. Helena to Landsaw.

Mrs. Ella Murphy and Miss Emma Cardwell visited Campton Friday and Saturday.

Brack Houndshell, who got his leg broke some few months ago, is now in Lexington and improving nicely.

Judge C. O. Cardwell returned home Friday from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He says his son Isaac is improving very slowly, and will recover if he continues to improve. He reports a fine trip, but says there is no place like Old Kentucky.

A Sad Accident.

Mr. Walter S. Bronston, of Lexington, who was the opponent of Mr. Thomas A. Combs for Mayor in the Democratic primary held there the 6th of last January, was accidentally shot in his apartments in the Leland Hotel annex last Monday evening about 5:45 o'clock, and died at the St. Joseph's Hospital an hour and twenty minutes later.

When the accident occurred Mr. Bronston was preparing to leave his room to take the C. and O. train for Winchester, thence to go to Richmond, Ky., where he was to have made a speech Tuesday in the interest of Mr. Henry Bowworth, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer. He was packing his grip and was in the act of transferring a revolver from a drawer to the valise, when it slipped from his grasp, struck the edge of the dresser upon which the valise rested and was discharged, the bullet passing through his body and lodging near the spinal column.

Mr. Bronston was one of the most prominent young lawyers of the Fayette county bar and was well-known throughout the State. He was a very prominent Elk, having but recently been elected to the highest office in the local order at Lexington.
